RAYTHEON STARTS WORK ON NEW PARKING LOT

Raytheon Manufacturing Co., in Shawsheen has started construction of a 465-car parking lot.

The firm, town officials and residents of the area have been attempting to find a solution to parking problems. Residents have complained that too many cars are parked on the streets every day, causing a nuisance. Raytheon announced the new lot and said it will accommodate double the number of cars presently being driven to the plant each day.

Peter Stewart Is Back

Peter Stewart returned to school, conqueror of a disease that kept him absolutely bed-ridden for two years. (Leone)

Peter Stewart is back in school . . . Peter Stewart is back in school!

A chorus of little voices happily sounded the news throughout the corridors of Central School last week. And out in the playground the plucky little Peter beamed with joyous pride at the gay calls and affection showered upon him.

For Peter Stewart, young son of Mr. and Mrs. Angus Stewart, 37 Westwind rd., stricken two years ago - almost to the day - with Legg Perthes' disease and now back with the same classmates he had left, May 2 was a day of days all right!

It was his tenth birthday for one thing.

It was the end of 15 months of lying flat on his back and of painful and painstaking physiotherapy to get him walking again.

And it was the beginning of a whole new, wonderful school day again with friends whose love and (Continued on Page 20)

No Rain, Increased Demand Blamed For Serious Shortage

"ANDOVER HIGH SCHOOL" IS OFFICIAL DESIGNATION

The new high school has been officially named "Andover High School" by the School Committee.

The decision was reached Tuesday night after members reported a fairly even division of opinion among townspeople between the new name and a continuation of "Punchard High School". The Committee said the new name allows easier identification plus indicating that the new structure is the effort of all the townspeople. The Trustees of the Punchard Free School had asked retention of the name "Punchard".

Nature's reluctance to provide rain, plus a greater residential demand for water, results in a potentially-dangerous water supply problem this week.

The Board of Public Works, concerned over the possibility that an already low reservoir may go still lower without an adequate rainfall and constantly increasing demand, discussed ways to conserve water during its meeting Monday night.

Engineer Ralph Preble explained that about 100,000 gallons a day is being pumped in excess of last year's daily amount.

The reservoir, meanwhile, is 26 inches below last year's spring level, mostly because there were no spring rains to fill it.

While the town is in no immediate danger of running dry, (Continued on Page 13)

5th Amendment Not For Boards, Taxpayers Claim

"There is no Fifth Amendment for public boards".

The directors of the Andover Taxpayers Association, through its president, Henry Wolfson, spoke thusly this week in a comment on recent secret meetings of the Board of Public Works.

Wolfson issued the statement, which reads:

"The Board of Directors of the Andover Taxpayers' Association is quite concerned with the tendency of one of our Boards to meet in secret session to transact public business. We doubt that the citizens of Andover will condone this practice. In the light of some of that Board's actions and statements as reported by press observers and others, we can understand why they would want secrecy; (Continued on Page 11)

GOURMET "STEALS"

BY
BETTY BLAISDELL

Market news releases fall into my hands weekly, ringing the bell for new crop arrivals. As if I didn't know! I am the most tireless, most incurable market shop-around (snooper) in captivity!

These releases are, however, a fine guide to economical and peak-of-the-crop buying — two practical aspects which, I find, are never underestimated by my gourmet friends.

So the bell has been sounded for spring lamb — tender, delicate, juicy choice spring lamb.

My friend, Libby Brackett Smith of Marblehead, famous on the North Shore for her culinary talents (and her adamant dislike of modern kitchens "where everything is put away, even the cook") showed me the one way to do spring lamb. I say "the one way" because Libby faithfully believes this and so now do I.

SAVORY ROAST LAMB

Do select choice quality. My grocer carries only choice he says. It is marked so I believe him. He has it slit for me in 3 places (for garlic) — a very good idea for you too, because a butcher's knife is sharp and he knows precisely where to cut.

Line the bottom of a roasting pan with aluminum foil, bringing it up the sides slightly and spread it with a little olive or salad oil. Wipe the leg of lamb with a damp cloth, stick small garlic buds in the slits and rub all over with salt and freshly ground pepper.

Heat your oven to only 300 degrees and keep it there during the entire roasting period. Now spread fresh mint leaves on the oiled foil. If you can't get ahold of fresh, dried mint will do. Mix with Rosemary, about a teaspoonful and sprinkle ¼ cup of white wine over all. Now place the lamb on top of the seasonings and away you go.

If you over-roast, remember, all this trouble has come to nothing. All the hidden nuances of flavor will be gone and the juices, too. As much as I dislike digging a meat thermometer into the tender stuff, the precaution does pay off.

After removing to a warm platter before serving, catch the juices left in the foil, strain and skim off as much excess fat as possible. Thicken, if you like, with the yolk of one egg, added slowly to juices as you stir over heat. Only a minute or so. Then pour over the lamb.

Libby had a caper sauce she liked for roast lamb, but her family would eat it. Mine won't. Nothing but a glob of mint flavored jelly seems to please.

CHEESE SPREAD OR DIP

(Mrs. Stafford A. Lindsay)

A good cheese spread or dip is always timely when guests arrive and this one of Mrs. Lindsay's has been making friends for some time. In graciously giving me the recipe she makes several brand specifications which, if changed, do alter the flavor. No brand is mentioned for the mayonnaise — just make sure it's not salad dressing, she says! A big difference, Mrs. Lindsay, I agree.

1 lg. or 3 -3oz. packages of Phila. cream cheese
Pinch of salt
2½ tbl. Tarragon vinegar

(Heinz or Crosse & Blackwell)

2 level tbl. grated yellow onion
3 tsp. mayonnaise
Milk, enough to thin out to desired consistency.

Let cream cheese warm to room temperature before mashing with fork. Add mayonnaise, onion and vinegar. Sprinkle top with paprika. Serve with chips, crackers or Melba toast.

How Do You Top Gingerbread?

I have come to the personal conclusion that ice-cream and whipped cream are all wrong as a topping for warm gingerbread, but exigencies of space prohibit further discussion on the matter. Won't you write in YOUR ideas on the subject? (Mrs. J. Rodney Ball Jr.'s nifty recipe for Canadian Chews next week.)

An enjoyable program of musical sketches, entitled "Romance in Music," and the election of officers for the ensuing club year highlighted the annual meeting and banquet Monday evening of the Shawsheen Village Woman's Club.

The performers, Dolores Ladyga and Dana Lordly, sang many favorites from new and old musical comedies and graciously responded to five or six curtain calls with pleasing encore numbers.

Mrs. William C. Fiedler was elected president for her second term and the following were also installed for another year: Mrs. John B. Guild and Mrs. Sherman Locke, first and second vice presidents; Mrs. George W. Harter, recording secretary; Mrs. Thomas M. Neil, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Joseph W. Byrne, treasurer; Mrs. Walter C. Caswell and Mrs. Charles A. Currier, directors for one year. Mrs. Chester Kopatch and Mrs. Frank Burgess were newly elected directors for two years.

Shawsheen School

The fourth graders, under teacher Miss Joan Sullivan, Tuesday afternoon were given a well-deserved and long-promised treat of a party by Miss Anne Harnedy, principal.

This is the grade which, while the school underwent its recent building program, had been temporarily housed in the auditorium. Because the class met their various difficulties with such good sportsmanship, during the long period of September through February, the party was given as a reward.

The children enjoyed a game of softball in the afternoon, with ice-cream and cup cakes following.

Peggy Whitefield, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Kurt Whitefield, 7 Cornet rd., gave a party to 15 of her young friends on Sunday in honor of her tenth birthday anniversary. Prize Books at Library

Three men were honored recently at a ceremony held in New York Public Library when the ALA Liberty and Justice Awards were announced.

They were William H. Whyte Jr. for his book, "The Organization Man," Alpheus T. Mason for his biography of Harlan Fiske Stone, and James Thurber, humorist, for his "Further Fables For Our Times."

The awards were established to make the American people aware of what is being written in these three categories: contemporary affairs and problems, history and biography and fiction, which includes poetry or published drama. Also to inspire writers to make serious use of such themes in their books.

All prize-winning books and many of those from the honorable mention class may be borrowed from the library.

New Fiction

Much of the best in the spring fiction publications is listed in the following group of titles, recently added to the library: "The Believers," Giles; "Till We Have Faces," Lewis; "Bon Voyage!" Hayes; "The Guns of Navarone," MacLean; "The Eye of Love," Sharp; "Danger Under the Moon," Walsh; "Plenty, Priscilla," Mann; "The Scapegoat," DuMaurier; "Close To The Wind," Harris; "The City And The Stars," Clarke.

Schools Use Audio-Visual

The use of audio-visual aids as a teaching device in elementary schools is increasing rapidly on the up-grade. At a recent meeting of the Memorial Hall Library, librarians discussed the use of these materials. All Andover elementary schools have an allotment of money in their school budget for necessary audio-visual materials. In some cases, the A.S. have supplied the materials through generous donations. Each school is equipped with not only a movie projector but a film strip machine. The film strip machine is used more, probably, than the camera projector, in the classroom. Teachers can be stopped at any time and class discussion can be started. These strips are now being used more.

Miss Miriam Putnam, librarian, spoke of the interest and present use of filmstrips and slides. She stated that the library of the Cooperative School means that all schools can buy a film, pool and borrow in other films. This allows each school to have 30 films to draw for a year's investment. Duplicating the hold in school systems is what we wish to avoid. Miss Putnam pointed out, something quite likely to happen as the library has no of adding a large percentage of material that is useful in a variety of subjects. To insure against this, it was decided that schools should send lists of holdings to the library, suggested that the library add to its collection the needed by schools to their budgets.

Mrs. Lucius Jones, Central School, is general manager of the entire program committee of the library school and has a chairman, Miss Helen T. Arthur Danforth is chairman of the program for the High School; Miss Florence E. Carthy, Shawsheen School, principal, is chairman for West School; and Mrs. Doris is chairman for West School. All members of the Visual Aids Committee of Andover.

Schools Use More Audio-Visual Aids

The use of audio visual programs as a teaching device in the Andover elementary schools is definitely on the up-grade.

At a recent meeting at the Memorial Hall Library, teachers working with these programs and librarians discussed better ways and means of working together in their purchase and use of materials.

All Andover elementary schools have an allotment out of the school budget for necessary equipment. In some cases the various T.A.'s have supplemented the means through generous contributions. Each school now is equipped with not only a 16 mm. movie projector but also a film strip machine.

The film strip machine is being used more, probably, than the movie projector, in that it adapts itself to classroom teaching and can be stopped at any point for comments and class discussions. These strips are now coming in color.

Miss Miriam Putnam, head librarian, spoke of the library's interest and present use of films, strips and slides. She explained that the library is a member of the Cooperative Film Pool, which means that all libraries in the pool buy a film, turn it into a pool and borrow in return the other films. This allows 30 communities to have 30 films on which to draw for a very small investment.

Duplicating the holdings of the school systems is what the library wishes to avoid, Miss Putnam pointed out, something which is quite likely to happen inasmuch as the library has made a point of adding a large percentage of material that is useful in teaching a variety of subjects.

To insure against these duplications it was decided that all schools should send lists of their holdings to the library, and it was suggested that the library might add to its collection those titles needed by schools but outside their budgets.

Mrs. Lucius Jones, teacher at Central School, is general chairman of the entire audio-visual program committee of the elementary school and has as her sub-chairman, Miss Helen Thomas.

Arthur Danforth is chairman of the program for the High School; Robert Sachman for the Junior High School; Miss Florence McCarthy, Shawsheen School; Lionel Coulet, principal, Ballardvale School; and Mrs. Dorothy Minzer is chairman for West School. They are all members of the Audio Visual Aids Committee for the Town of Andover.

BOOSTERS CLUB TO MAKE PLANS FOR JUNE 5 BANQUET

Final Plans for the All-sports banquet June 5, sponsored by the Boosters Club, will be made at a meeting at Hallahan's Reception Room May 17 at 8 p.m. Election of officers for the new year will also be held.

At a recent meeting to which fathers of all athletes, members of the band and cheerleaders were invited, the aims and purposes of the Club were explained. Emphasis was placed on the Club's insistence that politics and school policy will not be part of the group's activities. Some 30 fathers attended.

Out-Of-Town Solicitors

Quite often during the spring, summer and fall, pedestrians walking along Main st. find themselves being solicited for contributions to many causes. Girls and boys, men and women appear at the intersections and busiest locations, all with a container and either a pin or flower for the donor.

Many times, it is hard to distinguish just what it is that the solicitor wants the money for. Usually there is something said about medical or religious or charitable aims — but busy men and women, in a hurry to get where they're going, don't actually fully hear, or understand, the purposes for which their money is being sought.

Most everyone gives something. It's the easiest way out. Otherwise, every time one walks along the street — no matter how many times during the day — it's necessary to walk around the solicitor.

We are not complaining about organizations conducting a drive for funds — but we do sometimes wonder if it is necessary to have out-of-town solicitations conducted here. There are so many equally worthwhile groups to which the money could go that are local in membership, if not in purpose.

We fully understand that the most recent collection last Friday was taken by a religious organization which has been doing this once a year here for some time. Others, if strangers, are referred to the Selectmen and may or may not be allowed to conduct the drive.

While we fully sympathize with any organization's efforts to do good and the need for fund raising, we can also understand why some persons are annoyed by the persistency of the solicitors. As we said earlier, it is easier to give something just to wear the flower or pin and not be solicited again during the day.

When one gives money that way, it isn't because he or she necessarily wants to support the project or organization. And, to be sure, the organizations often know this but use the method because it is obviously profitable.

Good Judgement

The Board of Public Works is acting wisely in the matter of a water scarcity caused by the lack of rain this spring.

The Board is investigating possible restrictions that won't be too hard on anyone — but which perhaps will make it possible to avoid later, harsh restrictions.

And the public has also been urged to cooperate by going easy on some extras — like washing cars with a hose that is left running from beginning to end. Also a matter of public cooperation is the watering of lawns. The Board has asked that homeowners do this chore on Tuesdays and Fridays — times when the demand is not at a peak otherwise. Presently, more water is pumped on a weekend because lawn and garden watering is being done at that time, plus the added burden of just supplying extra water for persons who are at home all day Saturday and Sunday.

This problem of water supply, we fear, may result in strict control later if everyone does not cooperate now.

Down the Years with The Townsman

50 Years Ago — May, 1907

The Phillips Andover Academy track team won second place, with 38 points, in the Yale Inter-scholastic meet at New Haven, Saturday. Mercersburg won the meet.

Papers were passed yesterday on the Timothy C. Sullivan place, a small farm in West Parish. The place has been purchased by Charles E. Turner of South Lawrence.

The Old North Sewing School closed Saturday for the season with Exhibition Day. The school has been efficiently taught by Miss Lydia H. Blood, assisted by Mrs. John P. Clark, Mrs. George F. Sargent, Miss M. A. Berry and Miss Mary G. Carleton. Many parents and friends of the little girls attended the exhibit.

Nathaniel Stevens and Moses F. Stevens have each recently purchased a 32 horse power Pierce Arrow touring car.

25 Years Ago — May, 1932

The Andover League of Women Voters held its annual meeting Tuesday at the home of the president, Mrs. John Birdsall, in Shaw-sheen Village. There were about 50 members present. The following officers were elected: President, Mrs. A. Buel Trowbridge; first vice president, Mrs. Horace Poynter; second vice president, Mrs. Harold Rutter; recording secretary, Mrs. Peter Cunningham; corresponding secretary, Mrs. John Birdsall and treasurer, Miss Helen Chickering.

Sunday afternoon at 3 o'clock, the new chapel at Phillips Academy will be dedicated. The chapel will be formally presented to the trustees by a representative of the donor and will be accepted by the Rev. James Hardy Ropes, D. D., president of the Board. With the completion of the academy chapel the building program, started some six or seven years ago on Andover Hill, is now virtually completed, except the new infirmary, which has been temporarily postponed.

The Jolly Cooks met on Thursday evening at the home of Miss Helen Anderson of Ballardvale rd., at which time they held a supper with their mothers as invited guests. Following the repast a joint meeting of the 4-H Weedless Garden Club was held with Horace Shute as the speaker.

10 Years Ago — May, 1947

Committees of three, representing both sides of the North School question, were invited to present their views to the School board at Tuesday night's meeting. Speaking for the closing of the school were Mrs. Harold Henderson, Roger Lewis and Dean Hudgins while George Hird, Clarence Sanborn and Alexander Brown spoke for the continuance of the school, also presenting a petition to that effect.

The pupils of Marland school enjoyed their annual May Breakfast Tuesday morning in spite of rain, which made it necessary for the event to be held indoors.

The Nunez barn on Sunset Rock rd. will be gay with party folk on Saturday night, May 17, the night of the Barn Dance and Bridge party to be held for the benefit of the Smith College 75th Anniversary fund.

ANTI-POLIO CLINIC TOMORROW MORNING

The Andover Board of Health will hold a clinic for Salk anti-polio vaccine on Friday morning from 9 to 10 in the Central Elementary Auditorium.

The clinic is for pre-school children who have not received their third or booster shot, but any child who has not received his first or second injection will also be accommodated.

Parents are requested to park their cars in rear of school.

Call Men Prove Invaluable In This Year Of Many Fires

Along with the liberalities of spring, such as birds, babies, brides and baseball, is the annual menace to firemen everywhere — brush fires.

Inevitably, from the middle of April through all of May, the fire department, including its augmented call force, is steadily hopping to all sections of town with men and fire equipment.

This season with harrassing dry weather, Fire Chief Henry Hilton reports a total of 74 brush fires since April 13, a period of just 17 days — which makes it the worst spring season for the local firemen for many a year.

The call force plays a most important role, be it known, in bringing these and all fires under quick control. Headed by Captain Lee Noyes for the past six years and himself a call man for the past 15, the force maintains a membership always of from 16 to 20 men. Committed to 24-hour duty, they are men with other businesses and other duties, yet those who are assigned under the 100 percent Call classification, answer promptly every bell alarm that is put through the fire alarm system the year round.

Lowest Paid?

According to the best standards of town Call forces, the Andover group is as healthy and knowledgeable as you can find. (It is also, according to Capt. Noyes, the lowest paid Call department in the vicinity).

Friendly Firemen

Organized in 1829 as the "Friendly Fire Society", when individual fire buckets were all part of a resident's home equipment, the force has seen little change in basic policy in the past century and a quarter. Perhaps the most significant change has been just in the past year when the call force was placed on a class set-up, — a 100 percent, a 75 percent and a two-thirds coverage, each of the three classes being allowed call absences up to one-third. The basic pay for a 100 percent Call man is $295 yearly.

Under the class set-up, there are only five or six men — fewer, actually, answering 100 percent of the calls, but the entire force enjoys a fairer, graduated pay schedule. There are fewer absence fines imposed upon the members as was true under the old system.

Helmets and rubber goods, particularly the "night hitches" which are a zippered, quick cover-all for wear at night, are some of the equipment furnished the call men through the fines imposed on them by their absences. At the present time all are nicely equipped with the necessary "night hitches."

Meets Monthly

The call force meets each month, the first Wednesday, at which time actual drill is held for the members with practise using hose and ladders, jumping into life nets, etc.

At the present time a two-year training course is being conducted by the fire department with drills in firefighting every Saturday afternoon.

Asked of Fire Chief Hilton if, with the latest fire equipment, the department as a whole could do with fewer men than in days gone by, he replied "it still takes men, not equipment, to put out a fire." He added, "we think we're lucky to get as many call men as we do."

As both Fire Chief Hilton and Captain Noyes point out, intelligent, skilled men for fire fighting are truly the order of the day. How and when to handle first aid equipment, how and when to handle the various chemical extinguishers to fight burning chemicals (when water only increases combustion) takes skill and know-how from every man on the force.

Garden Clubbers Attend Meeting

Several members of the Andover Garden Club attended the 30th annual meeting of the Garden Club Federation of Massachusetts, Inc., held recently at the New Ocean House in Swampscott.

An offering of six excellent workshops featured the afternoon's program for the first day and of these two were led by members of the Andover Garden Club.

There were the Junior Gardening Workshop, led by Mrs. Ernest L. Wilkinson, state chairman of the Junior Garden Clubs; and the Judges Council Workshop, led by Mrs. Robert Richards, state chairman of this council.

Recent Club Awards

At a recent "Hobbies and Flower Show" held in the Congregational Church in Groveland, Mrs. Jerome W. Cross was awarded a third prize for her arrangement, "Flowers in a Basket."

Mrs. Henry Van Zandt received honorable mention in the class, "May Day Baskets" and honorable mention also went to Andover Garden Club member Mrs. Ralph Wilkinson for her arrangement under the class of "Hobbies and Flowers."

Chairman of the show was another Andover Garden Club member, Mrs. Robert Richards, who makes her home in Groveland and who is a member of the club who sponsored the show.

2 Local Girls Receive Awards

Two local girls have received high honors at Pembroke College at Brown University. Both were awarded the Pembroke College Key for exceptional contributions to the college, class or community.

Miss Elizabeth A. Hatton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert J. Hatton, 12 Stratford st., is a graduate of Pynchard High School and is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree. A senior, she is art editor of the Record, Pembroke's bi-weekly newspaper and is a member of the Student Government Association Calendar Committee.

Miss Nancy Ann Brookover, a graduate of Wyoming High School, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Brookover, 49 School st. She is a senior and is a candidate for the Bachelor of Arts degree. She serves as secretary of her class and heads the Publicity Committee of the Student Government Association. She also is a member of the Brownie Board, a social organization.

WATER SHORTAGE

Preble agreed that a dry summer plus increased demands could present the town with a serious situation by fall. And next year's problem, resulting from the shortage now and in the coming months, would be worse. Preble explained that added water from wells for which tests are now being conducted, could alleviate the shortage by next summer only if a special town meeting is called this fall to appropriate money for the permanent work. An appropriation in the spring, at the annual meeting, wouldn't allow time enough to get the work done to have much effect next summer, he continued.

Conservation Now

The immediate concern of the town, however, is getting homeowners to help conserve water. Restrictions, members felt, may have to be applied. But until then, lawn watering should be confined to either Tuesday or Friday night—times when the system is not otherwise taxed at capacity. On weekends, Preble has pointed out, the demand is greater just because more persons are at home. And each person, on the average, uses 100 gallons of water each day.

While on the subject of lawns, it also is explained that one good watering a week is far better than sprinkling it several times a week as many persons do.

Also on the list for cooperative effort towards saving water is car washing. An average of 60 gallons of water is used every time a car is washed—with the persons who leave the hose running throughout the chore probably using far more than that. If such activities were curtailed, at least to the extent of turning off the hose when it isn't being used, the saving would result.

The Board, meanwhile, is looking into the water-cooled air conditioning systems in town—trying to determine how much water is being used in them.

No Restriction Yet

There has been no restriction on the actual use of water—and the Board has been informed that it must receive permission from the State Department of Public Health to apply them. Representatives of that Department will confer with town officials this week to offer advice on methods of saving water.

The shortage of water is most acutely felt in the high level system. Preble has said, because it serves a completely residential area—while the center of town does not offer the same possibilities.

ties for the use of water as homes, lawns and gardens do. There has as yet been little demand for water for commercial garden irrigation.

During the year, the town pumps an average of 1.8 million gallons a day. A minimum amount is 1.4 million, while as many as four million gallons have been pumped at a maximum. Presently the figure is beginning to reflect the season, with recorded amounts varying from 1.8 million to 2.1 million gallons a day.

SCHOOLS NEED TUTORS,
SUBSTITUTES NOW

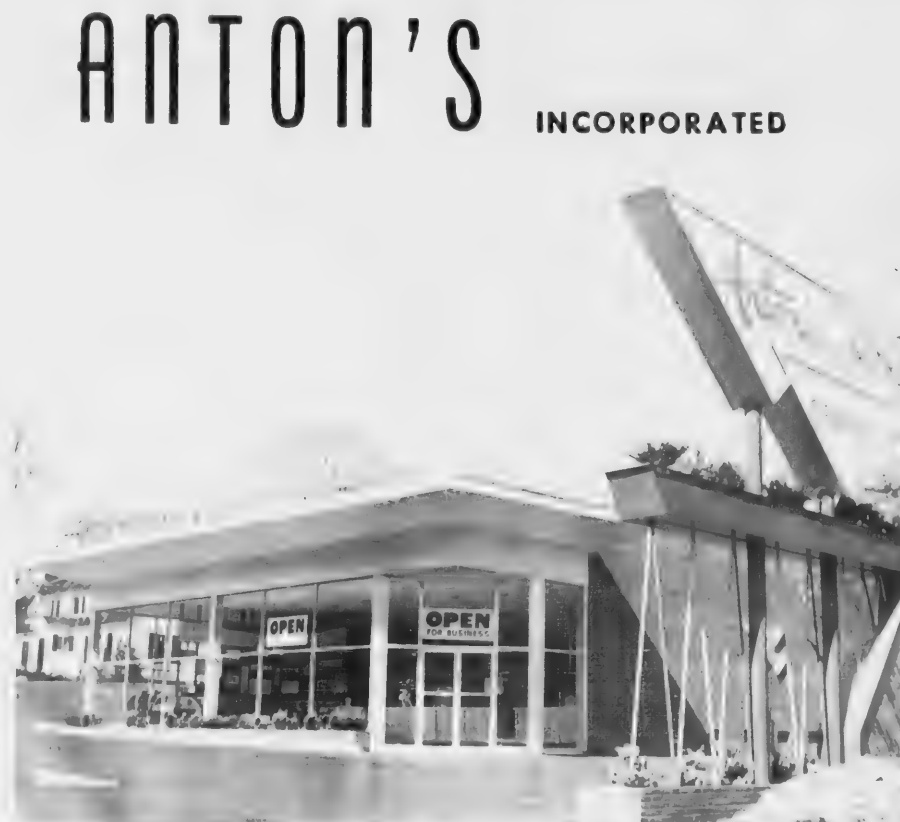

The urgency of a need for high school and junior high school substitute teachers and tutors is being stressed by the schools' administration. Punchard Headmaster Lindsay J. March states that the schools' supply of substitute teachers is now in a state of depletion because so many on its list have taken permanent positions.

Those interested in accepting substitute or tutoring work should see either Mr. Mr. March or Superintendent Edward I. Erickson for interviews. A promise of special tutoring placements during the summer months can be made, March stated.

SOUTH SCHOOL BIDS RECEIVED

next Tuesday night at Central School. Details of the contractors' financial ability, reputation in the trade and lists of schools built by them will be furnished the Building Committee.

Other bidders Tuesday night were Charles Lougue of Newton Highlands, $647,031; A. J. Martini of Medford, $657,500 and D. Guschoy Co. of Boston, $659,300.

Comfortable Margin

Considerable comment was provoked, following reading of the bids, by the comfortable margin between all the bids and the $703,000 allowed for construction and site development. All bidders evidently wanted the job, it was said, indicated by the small spread between high and low. In recent times, bids have had tendency to exceed the allowed amount.

Commenting on the bids later in the evening, Roger Burton of the architectural firm said there have been good reports on the low bidder in other towns where the firm has entered a bid. He spoke highly of the other bidders as well and promised full investigation of the three low firms. All bidders but one used the same set of sub-bids and have indicated they will use the sub-contractors whose prices they included in their bids.

Construction, outside the required sub-bids, was listed at $363,156. Sub bids amounting to $275,517 were listed to bring the total to $638,673.

Elect Ed Hall

During the meeting of the Building Committee, members elected Edward P. Hall as clerk of the works for the construction period at a rate of $150 weekly. Mr. Hall, clerk at the high school project, said that work will be about ended by the end of the month, when it is assumed the South School will start. Mr. Hall on vote of the members, will remain on the Building Committee. It was also learned that member John Irwin expects to be transferred by his firm, Western Electric and will not be available on service after a few weeks.

Auction Tonight At Service Club

The annual outing of the Andover Service Club will be held June 6 at the Wild Rose Farm, West Andover.

Plans for the affair will be discussed at tonight's regular business meeting at the Andover Country Club. Dinner will be served at 6:30, with the business meeting following. An auction with each member contributing an item, will be held after the meeting. Auctioneer will be James Moshier, assisted by Sam Osgood. Club president, Dr. N. R. Stone, and Don Lundgren.

PETER STEWART GOES TO SCHOOL

loyalty had helped him bear those two long years.

This time it was Peter's turn to do the treating, for quite by surprise to all of his fourth grade classmates, Mrs. Stewart appeared with ice-cream and cake and all the doodads accompanying a birthday party, and a gay time was had by all!

Hard Work Paid Off

Celebrations were certainly in order and for Mrs. Stewart - mother, nurse, teacher and physiotherapist, hers was one of prime significance. Her two years of constant devotion to the cause of Peter's recovery, plus the running of a household for her husband and daughter, Sandra (senior in Punchard) had been successful any way you look at it.

With the warmest of praise Mrs. Stewart spoke of everyone's loving cooperation, by which Peter's illness was made more bearable. Miss Catherine Barrett, principal of Central School, was "wonderful". Mrs. Anna Walsh, visiting teacher, the school children (who even ran "Peter Stewart Benefits" in the garage of Peter's home for toy models, etc.); and many neighbors and other citizens were all very kind and helpful.

That Peter could return to take up callwork in the fourth grade was certainly an accomplishment in itself. For lying flat on his back, elevated only the height of two pillows, did not make for very comfortable figuring or writing on paper. The Red Cross's loan of a tilting bedside table helped, but progress could hardly be expected in handwriting. This was the only subject which on Peter's report card did not draw an "A."

Now, able to walk with a cane, Peter Stewart manages well with only a slight limp and "waddle" to his gait. His one leg is an eighth of an inch shorter than the other but the hip rotation is practically normal.

The uncomplaining Peter is happy as a lark. He has friends - lots of them. He has a wonderful father and mother and big sister. And he has 32 silver dollars, a collection started for him by the P.T.A. of Central School and added to by many, even the doctor. This precious collection Peter keeps under lock and key in his favorite Pirate Chest bank, and one of the best pastimes in the world is opening it up and counting 'em - naturally!

POOGLE TALK DICTIONARY NEEDED

land Children's Playhouse production scheduled for this Saturday afternoon in the Auditorium, have been distributed by the teachers in all the classrooms. And Poogle Talk, spoken by some of the strange creatures which live on Saturnia, is introduced with full dictionary meanings.

Proof that Poogle Talk is catching on can be given by the school dieticians, if anyone, for "ookla dum, ser, ser" has almost entirely replaced "I'm hungry!"

As for just plain "No", mothers are happily reporting there are fewer being said. Why? Well, in Poogle Talk, it is something of a mouthful — "zuff zeebet forsin feedal dorsal kumquat fo" and small fry are having to study this out a bit longer.

On the other hand the Saturnian "Zu" is quite "zo lot" for "if we dwarfians on Saturnia look queer to you, you should see how you earth children look to us and what is all this science-fiction, space and rocket ship stuff anyway, huh?"

Some of the Andover earth children, when asked to give a summary on Pooglish for the press, only replied it's "zapu kapa rapatrac!" which it may be gathered could very well mean "Out of this world!"

Curtain time, incidentally, is 3 p.m. Children under six must be accompanied by an adult or teenager.

citizens of the community also have an obligation to see that the campaign is a success because the funds collected go to assist all disabled veterans.

The chairman noted that there are today more than twenty million ex-service men still living and that the Veterans Administration can not care completely for the cases it now has on hand. It is, therefore, up to organizations like the Veterans of Foreign Wars to take over the more urgent of these veterans problems. The V.F.W. can do this only if enough funds are raised through this annual sale of Buddy Poppies, he continued.

Mr. Thompson, in conclusion, stressed that all funds in the sale will be used solely to rehabilitate disabled service men, to aid others in their re-adjustment problems, and to provide a normal, healthy home life for war orphans at the V.F.W. National Home for Orphans at Eaton Rapids, Mich.

filed in Salem Probate Court. Personal effects, including furniture and other articles, were left to a niece, Elizabeth M. Foster of Andover. The amount of $100 each was left to Richard W.
